

Rather than installing wi-fi reception in public areas which is restrictive and evolutionary. Why not revolutionize it and have a cloud covering the whole of Hong Kong? This will be more expansive and future proof.